

ELTE Project

Supporting the development of technology enhanced learning in Social Policy and Social Work in higher education

Free e-learning Workshop London Metropolitan University Finding, using and adapting reusable learning objects (rlos) Thursday 18th October 2007

A free one day workshop run in conjunction with the Social Care Institute for Excellence (SCIE) and The Centre for Excellence in Teaching and Learning in Reusable Learning Objects (RLO-CETL).

General description

This workshop will introduce delegate to 'reusable learning objects' and their application in social work teaching and learning. The event will combine presentations with hands-on activities and discussion to provide a stimulating and lively event.

Aims of workshop

- To present some basic definitions and concepts related to learning objects
- To showcase examples of learning objects for use in social work teaching
- To provide information on routes to finding accessible learning objects
- To introduce participants to design principles and approaches for developing learning objects
- To promote discussion and dialogue about learning objects and their use in social work programmes

Audience

This workshop is suitable for those who have little or no experience of using or developing online materials. However it will also help those with some experience to develop their ideas and approaches.
